Each piece of the Kynde collection is not just a piece of furniture. It's an invitation, designed to make everyone seated around it feel like this is where they belong. Devoid of both hard edges and hierarchy, our tables encourage real, organic connections that feel like a warm embrace at the start of a new journey of partnerships. While our collection is connected to the environment within, we're also keenly aware of its impact on the world outside, far beyond an office's four walls. It's why the materials we use are carefully chosen to have the least impact possible on the planet.
